If your dream abode combines unrivalled culture, year-round sunshine and the 'sport of kings', then look no further than the Ritz-Carlton Residences Marrakech, which since coming on the market in April 2018, have enjoyed an unprecedented surge in first phase sales. With 65% of the luxury villas already sold since launch, the Residences have proven an attractive investment opportunity for buyers seeking an opulent lifestyle within Morocco's cultural centre.

Located on the 50-hectare Jnan Amar Polo Resort, the community is a 20-minute journey from central Marrakech and offers access to a nine-month polo season just a stone's throw from your front door. Starting at £1.14m, each of the residences has been developed on expansive plots boasting beautiful views of the surrounding polo field and nearby Atlas Mountains.

"When we conceived the project, the intention was to identify key factors and characteristics that would create a compelling residential community beyond what exists in Marrakech today." said developer Amar Abdelhadi. "The marriage between The Ritz-Carlton, polo and Marrakech has been validated by our phase 1 results, so we look forward to continued success."
